

What we want: Senior Technical Consultant to join the #BEarenaArmy!

Are you a technical legend? If so we need YOU to jump in the hot seat and drive the BEarena professional services division onwards and upwards.

BEarena is a rapidly growing, specialist next gen' virtualisation and cloud practice, championing the latest software defined server, storage and network technologies! We provide the brains, the goods and the man-power to deliver the best solutions for our clients throughout Australia, NZ and Asia Pacific.

The professional services division lead the charge delivering technical excellence and happiness to our extensive and diverse range of clients. They are a demanding bunch, so we need you to blow them away with your technical abilities. You'll own the end to end client engagement, from deep technical design through to implementation and can translate this into a best of breed technical solution. In addition, you'll perform deep technical troubleshooting to understand and resolve customer issues.

What you have!

Awesome:

- Extensive Microsoft Azure skills and certifications, including implementing Microsoft Azure Infrastructure Solutions (70-533) and Architecting Microsoft Azure Solutions (70-534)
- DevOps style Automation skills. Why do things manually when you can automate it?! (Docker, Puppet, Kubernetes, Mesos)
- Well-developed report writing, presentation skills, excellent organizational and prioritization skills
- Excellent customer service orientation with the ability to communicate effectively with a wide range of clients
- A current driver's license
- A natural sense of ownership in every aspect of your work

Extra awesome:

- Experience in complex, highly available virtualized infrastructures (VMware / Hyper-V)
- Detailed knowledge of Hyper-converged infrastructure (HCI)
- Nutanix- & Public Cloud experience
- Know a thing or two about Backup and DR
- Experience working for a technology reseller or vendor

Do you consider yourself the best at what you do, a real team player? Are you interested to understand more? Send your resume and cover letter to iwouldratherbe@bearena.com.au with the job title in the subject line.
